The Reverend Stryker Education Center for Disadvantaged Youth was a shiny, happy name that Orchis hung on another of its gulags in Hershey, Pennsylvania.

And what a pleasant surprise in these hellish days. We have the return of a mutant we thought we lost.

It turns out she had been lost off-Earth.

Welcome home, Magik. I'll make sure you get a proper welcome.

Thanks, Emma.

Security, we have a perimeter--

UGHN!

Ilyana, are you unwell? You're slower, and your breathing is labored.

These Orchis goons infected me with something-- blocked my teleportation.

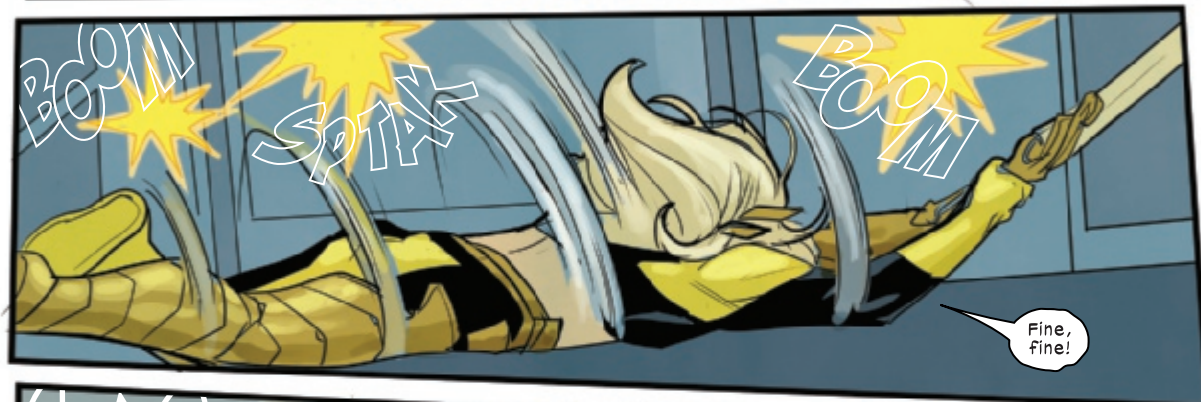

I'm gonna get right--

--or die trying!

Aw, crud!

Hey, boys. I'm exhausted from stabbin' everyone back there-- any chance we can maybe--

Fine, fine!

Fine.

Y'know... we had rules on Krakoa.

I forget where "Kill no man" ranked, but I followed that one.

I don't scare easy. Or at all.

I just didn't want to risk the punishment for that one.
